PROVINCIAL ELECTIONS

WILL BE HELD NOVEMBER NINTH

Officially Announced This Morning—Writs Issued

During The Week—Nominations October 31st and Polling November 9th.

NOMINATIONS TUESDAY, OCT. 31.

ELECTIONS, THURSDAY, NOV. 9.

Premier Rutherford announced this morning that the writs for the Provincial elections had been issued, nominations to be held on Oct. 31st and elections on Nov. 9th.

PRESAGES LIBERAL VICTORY

The Premier was very much pleased with the political outlook and is confident that the Liberals will sweep the Province and the Government will be sustained by a large majority. In every constituency the Liberal candidates and workers are completing organization and are carrying forward the campaign with enthusiasm and vigor. The broad platform of the Calgary convention in accord with which the policy of the Government is framed has met with the heartiest response from Liberals and the friends of Liberal principles everywhere. Upon that platform and for this endorsement of that policy the Government appeals to the electorate with every confidence that they will receive the support of the people in all parts of the Province.

Writs for the first Provincial elections in Alberta have been issued. Nominations take place on October 31 and polling on Thursday, November 9th. While rumors have been prevalent for several days to the effect that the elections would occur some time early in November, no official announcement of the date was made until this morning.

A PARTY FIGHT.

The first elections in the new Province will be fought on party lines generally throughout Alberta. While in some constituencies where "Conservative candidates as such" could have no hope of election so-called "Independent" gentlemen made their appearance in opposition to the Liberal candidates. These aspirants, however, were soon discovered to be old time Conservative workers and the purpose of their presence in the field was early made known by the announcement of the Conservative organizer that their election was counted by the Conservatives as the means of accomplishing the defeat of the Government.

The Liberals on the other hand not to be misled by this ruse, have elected candidates in all the constituencies of the Province and are working with unanimity and enthusiasm to elect those candidates against all comers, knowing that be that is not with them is against them.

THE ISSUE

The direct issue of the contest is thus the endorsement or defeat of the Provincial Government.

Alike the nature of the campaign they have inaugurated and the tactics they have adopted, reveal the purpose of Mr. Bennett and his followers to be power at any price. For this purpose Alberta Conservatives have allied themselves in leadership with the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, have deserted the Liberal platform they endeavored to manufacture of planks stolen from the Liberal policy and have entered on a campaign of negation an agitation aimed at litigation, and tending to stagnation. Pressed for an announcement of their alternative policy on the questions over which they were endeavoring to create ferment, the press of the Conservative party admitted explicitly that on neither of these questions have the Conservatives an alternative policy. From the Conservative standpoint therefore the campaign has become merely a rough-and-tumble scramble for power regardless of policy or consequence.

Alberta Liberals on the other hand stand for the endorsement of the present administration, on the grounds of personell and policy. In the ministers in charge of departments they recognize men of the highest standing and integrity in the Province and in the policy to which the Government stands pledged, the only assurance of progressive and efficient administration.

THE POLICY FOR ALBERTA.

In the present campaign there is therefore only one policy before the people of Alberta the platform formulated by the Liberal convention and on which the Government seeks the support of the electorate. The essence of that platform is construction, development and progress and in its scope no proper sphere of Governmental activity is neglected and no interest of the Province is disregarded. By the prompt and vigorous inauguration of such policy alone can the foundations be laid for the splendid future which lies before Alberta.

Against this policy the opposition have only to propose that the people of Alberta shall be stirred into discontent over an alleged grievance which the fermenters have no remedy to offer, and that they shall place the affairs of the Province in the hands of the solicitor for the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and his friends.

TERRIFIC STORM

SWEEPS THE GREAT LAKES

Tales of Shipwreck and Loss of Life Come from Ports on Lake Huron and Lake Erie

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 21.—Last night's storm was the most terrific on record and the damage was tremendous. The bay is a mass of wreckage. The schooner Kate Lyons of Grand Haven, missed the entrance of the harbor and struck the pier, breaking in two. There is not a vestige left of her.

STATE DROWNED

Rogers City, Mich., Oct. 21.—The steam barge Joseph Fay beached six miles from here. The crew of fourteen washed ashore clinging to wreckage. The mate was drowned.

BARGE WENT ASHORE

Chesbogan, Mich., Oct. 21.—A two-masted barge went ashore on the lighthouse point and is being pounded by the seas. Assistance cannot reach her to save her crew of six. The harbor tug Cygnus was broken to pieces in the night.

THE STORM ON LAKE ERIE.

Buffalo, N.Y., Oct. 21.—A gale reaching seventy-three miles an hour swept over western New York, doing incalculable damage and killing several people. Lake Erie was lashed into fury and layed havoc with shipping. The regular Cleveland and Detroit boats were cancelled. The passenger steamer Western States was sighted off here this afternoon, but the Captain feared to attempt to enter between the breakwaters and turned back to the Canadian side to ride out the gale behind Long Point. The big propeller H. S. Wilson, the last boat to make port reported her ten miles from the Point, making fair progress in the teeth of the gale. There are fifty passengers aboard.

The schooner Matinee foundered off Ripley. The crew was saved. Capt. O'Brien and Gus Parsons were blown off the barge Unadilla with a load of lumber.

On shore two people were crushed to death under falling walls.

ROYALTY ABROAD

Genoa, Oct. 21.—The Prince and Princess of Wales arrived Friday on H.M.S. Renown. leave for the east today.

ANNIVERSARY OF TRAFALGAR

The anniversary of the Battle of Trafalgar was celebrated by the Sons of England and their friends in Robertson's Hall last night. The hall was nicely filled and the guests, grouped around little tables, listened attentively to a varied program of considerable excellence.

After the program the entire company played cards until 12 o'clock, when a most enjoyable lunch was provided by the lady friends of the Sons of England. The hall was then cleared and the entire company enjoyed the intricacies of the dance.

The program consisted of selections by Irving's orchestra, an address of welcome from President Engel; H. Stutchbury sang "Rise Britannia," Mrs. Wade, solo, "Fiddle and I"; a quartette consisting of Messrs. Valpy, Jamieson, Tuttle and Stutchbury, rendered "Drink to me only with thine eyes." Mrs. Bennett, solo, "Maid of Japan," from the Gipsies and an encore, "You and I"; Dr. Wade, rendered "An Englishman," a recitation; Jackson Hanby sang, "Lord of the Sea"; H. W. Heathcote sang "Death of Nelson," and Mrs. A. Smith sang "Dear Home Land."

POLITICAL

The Alberta Conservatives might swing to the breeze the legend, "Political platforms built while you wait."

Mr. Bennett's followers resemble the Adulterers of the legend, "Political platforms built while you wait."

Alberta Conservatives with three separate and distinct school platforms are following in the wake of the ordinary three-ringed circus.

There are men running up and down the country today shouting about religion, who never before knew they were pious and who would not be marked "O.K." at a mission soup kitchen.

If between two stools you come to the ground, what is the way to happen to the Conservative party in Alberta with its three separate and distinct platforms, and several constituencies to hear from?

When R. B. Bennett claims that the Territories received a Provincial Status in 1870, and not on September 1st and 4th, as Alberta and Saskatchewan respectively, it reminds one of the farmer down east who went to the city for the first time, and finding ox-tail soup at the top of the menu card, said to the waiter "Tough man, but that going a long way back for soup!"

"Conservatives do not propose to abolish the separate school system." We have long surmised as much, but the confusion could only be procured by the persistent demand that the assaults of the Provincial Government state their policy. The demand was made, persisted in and in the eleventh hour extracted from the agitators the admission that they had no evil to agitate against; no remedy to propose for the alleged grievance.

The sober sense of the electorate is not to be permanently misled by finely phrased evasions. In the "catch question" of the Carstairs gentleman the public recognized the vital point in the school question and simply demanded and kept on demanding a straightforward answer to the query. In the deception of Alberta Conservatives, as it stands admitted today is one more evidence of the good judgment of the public.

When some time since the Saskatchewan Conservatives pulled down the party flag and hoisted the Liberal flag, they earned the unenviable title of "political pirates." If caught were needed to prove the blood relationship between these gentlemen and their Alberta friends, it is furnished by this belated confession of faith by the Conservative press of Alberta. The design of both was robbery, but while the Saskatchewan party restricted their plundering propensities to the banner of their foes, the Alberta Conservatives sought to annex the platform of the Liberals and to conceal it with tapestries of sentimental verbiage and float above it the incongruous ensign of their party. In that platform they recognized the only firm foundation for an educational policy and sought to hide their perfidy in glittering equivocation.

Probably not in the previous political history of Canada have the foundations been so suddenly knocked from under a political leader by the hand of his journalistic supporters. For a month Mr. Bennett has toured Alberta, pouring out torrents of criticism and condemnation on the Liberal Government and its policy of maintaining the school system. The studied and apparent purpose of the Conservative leader has been to create the impression that if elected he would abolish the provisions of the school ordinances which permit the establishment of separate schools in Alberta. In this effort he went so far as to declare in Strathcona that "If when the first Legislature meets in Edmonton, it re-enacts the terms of the present school law, then no appeal to the Privy Council will be of use. If it passes and re-enacts that school law, then Section 93 will become operative and it cannot be changed." But Mr. Bennett never openly declared that he would not re-enact that law. To have done so would have been to assume responsibility, and Mr. Bennett's plan was to secure power unpledged to any policy. This plan has been rudely upset by the admission that the "Conservatives do not propose to abolish the separate school system." Either therefore Mr. Bennett was trying to create an impression at variance with his real purpose, or the party he leads have "bolted" on the school question. Was it a party of conspirators or another "nest of traitors?"

—Commenting on the proposal of the Edmonton Wood Co. to remove their plant to Strathcona the Plaindealer says: Strathcona wants this industry, or rather these industries, with the growing trade they will bring to the town. The question for the ratepayers is whether or not they are justified in granting a free site to cost at most $2,000 guaranteeing a loan of $10,000 and exempting the plant from taxation for seven years. At the present rate of wages in the mills and the minimum number of hands employed the pay roll would amount to $16,000 the first year. It is reasonable to suppose that under the management that has raised it from zero to the present figure in three years the pay roll should triple or quadruple within ten years. As a mill has some value. They require 4,000 cords of wood for this winter's business. If Strathcona is to be a large town or city she must encourage industries. The question is whether we can afford to turn Mr. Webster's proposition down.

TALBOT IN THE SOUTH

A correspondent* to the Alberta, writing from Claresholm regarding the Claresholm meeting at which Mr. Talbot spoke, says:—

P. Talbot, M. P., for Strathcona, held a very successful meeting at Claresholm on Tuesday night, in the interests of Mr. MacKenzie, the Liberal candidate for Macleod district. The meeting had been well advertised and consequently was well attended.

It is safe to say that ninety per cent. of the people who heard Mr. Talbot's address are now well satisfied with the terms of the Alberta act. Mr. Talbot's clear and lucid explanation of the land clause, and clauses relating to the financial terms and even more especially the school clause, has won scores of friends for the Liberal party in the coming contest.
